

COVID-19 & THE NEW DEFINITION OF "CLEAN"

COVID-19 is a novel coronavirus and - due to its high contagion rate and its viability outside a host for long periods of time - it has brought businesses to a virtual standstill in the U.S. and around the world. Ongoing operation of an essential business or reopening a shuttered facility requires a new definition of "clean". As you begin planning your reopen strategies, your employees' health and wellness must be priority 1.

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

We've helped fight pandemics before - Ebola, SARS, H1N1. We're ready to fight this one, too.

In April 2020 we successfully transitioned a Tier 1 airport in the midst of the pandemic.

But in March 2020, the incumbent facility services team needed our help to deal with a positive COVID case on airport property.

We didn't think twice. Immediately we sent masks, gloves, Tyvek suits and disinfection supplies to their teams. We're all in this together.

It's time to take control of your facility with PUREClean's focused services tailored to your facility and your employees. Welcome your workforce back to a PUREClean facility, confident that you've done all you can to protect their health while a work.
